DRAMAFEST

Welcome, friends, family, and all you lovers of great stories.

We are so pleased to be sharing this year's crop of insightful and amazing tales, brought to you by the most innovative and exciting theatre makers you know. What you are about to witness is the culmination of many hours of love, passion and need. Each moment that you see on stage literally holds hours of time. From learning a skill, to creatively exploring an idea, to building and imbuing each moment with meaning, care and intent, all of this is for you.

This year at the NTS Dramafest, we have embraced the motto of TRYING. Of doing something that is beyond what we normally do. And as you take in the next 15 – 55 minutes, remember that it is the heart of these theatre makers that you hear. A festival can only be a platform to uplift young voices. WE must try new things in order to make the space for these students to be heard. To share these stories far and wide, across the province and beyond.

So, dear audience, we invite you to listen and engage with what these young theatre makers have to tell us. Because they are the future leaders of our world and they deserve our very best TRY.

The NTS Dramafest Team
Erika Kierulf, Richard Lee, Ella Kohlmann

Bienvenue, chers ami-es, chers parents et amateur-es de belles histoires.

Nous sommes ravies de partager avec vous les récits percutants des artistes constituant le théâtre le plus innovant et excitant qui soit . Ce que vous allez voir est l'aboutissement de nombreuses heures d'amour, de passion et de volonté. Chacun des instants qui prendront vie sur scène représente un travail colossal. Qu'il s'agisse d'apprendre une technique, d'explorer une idée de manière créative, de construire et d'imprégner les geste de sens, d'attention et d'intention... tout cela est pour vous.

Cette année, au Dramafest de l'ENT, nous avons adopté la devise Essayer : pour aller au-delà de ce que nous faisons habituellement. En vue des 15 à 55 prochaines minutes, n'oubliez pas que c'est le cœur des artistes de théâtre que vous entendez. Un festival ne peut être qu'une plateforme pour élever les jeunes voix: NOUS devons essayer de nouvelles choses afin de donner à ces élèves l'espace nécessaire pour se faire entendre, pour partager leurs histoires partout, dans toute la province et au-delà.

Alors, cher public, nous vous invitons à écouter et à vous engager dans ce que ces jeunes ont à nous dire. Voilà les leaders du monde de demain, qui méritent notre meilleur Essai.

L'équipe du Dramafest de l'ENT

Festival Welcome

The British Columbia National Theatre School DramaFest, along with the Douglas College Departments of Theatre and Stagecraft & Event Technology recognize and acknowledge the QayQayt (Ki-Kite) First Nation, as well as all Coast Salish Peoples, on whose traditional and unceded territories we live, we learn, we play, and we do our work.

The British Columbia National Theatre School DramaFest offers high school drama/theatre students and their teachers the opportunity to showcase their theatrical work, see the work of others, network, learn, play, and be re-energized through an intense immersion in Drama and Theatre.

This year's Festival is brought to you by the Fab Five! Each member of our team has specific duties relating to the organization of the Festival and we work collaboratively to offer our delegates a fantastic three day drama/theatre experience, led with workshops, play performances, social events, informal gatherings, spontaneous creative interludes, food, and fun!

We welcome you!

ABCDE President's Message

Welcome to the 2024 BC National Theatre School DramaFest!

Christine Knight
President
Association of BC Drama Educators

It's Provincial Festival time again! I am delighted to welcome you all to this amazing event. This is an annual celebration of the accomplishments of theatre students from around British Columbia and it is always inspiring to see the work that is happening in all the different theatre programs.

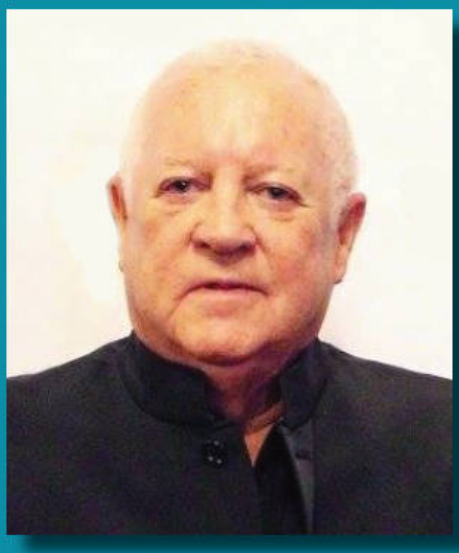

Throughout the past months ABCDE teacher members and their students have gathered at annual zone festivals around the province and shared their one act plays. Adjudicators at each zone event chose one play to represent that region, and those are the pieces that will be showcased here over the next few days. In addition to watching the selected plays, we will get to see the work of young playwrights. Students of ABCDE teacher members who submitted plays to the YouthWright competition were given an incredible opportunity to work with this year's adjudicator, professional playwright John Lazarus. Two of those selections from that competition will be on stage here this weekend.

This festival would not be possible without a dedicated team who spend months putting all the pieces together for what will be a memorable weekend. On behalf of ABCDE, a heartfelt thank you goes out to the festival team Gord Hamilton, Sharon Conrad, Katie Everson, Mitch Deeming, and Jake Guy.
ABCDE would also like to thank Douglas College for their continued support and for allowing us to gather in this beautiful facility each year. And of course, we are grateful to National Theatre School for their generous sponsorship!

Welcome to "Full Circle" everyone! Have a fantastic weekend meeting new people, learning new things, being inspired by the incredible work and reflecting on the meaningful role theatre plays in your life!

Christine Knight, ABCDE President

Welcome to Douglas College!

On behalf of the Theatre and Stagecraft & Event Technology departments, it is with great pleasure that I welcome you to Douglas College. We are honoured to host this event and thank everyone at ABCDE for including us. This weekend's not just about showcasing talent; it's about fostering creativity, inspiring imagination, and building a community passionate about theatre. Over the course of the weekend, you will have the opportunity to stretch your skills, witness some great performances and connect with others who share your love for theatre.

Whether you are a seasoned performer or stepping onto the stage for the first time, this festival is a time for you to shine. Embrace the opportunity to express yourselves, explore new characters, and share your stories with an eager audience. Your dedication and courage are what make this weekend truly special.
To all the teachers and supporters who made this weekend happen – thank you for your unwavering commitment to arts education and for instilling in your students a passion for creativity and expression.

Throughout the festival, let us embrace the spirit of collaboration, learning, and growth. May this be a time of exploration, discovery, and friendship, as we come together to celebrate the transformative power of theatre.

Sincerely,

TAKE QUIZ

Adjudicator

John Lazarus

This particular adjudicating gig feels special – partly because it marks my return to B.C. after 23 years living in Ontario, but also because I have the pleasure of doing two jobs for this festival.

Before I was hired as your Adjudicator, I got to judge Youthwright, the playwriting competition attached to BC NTS DramaFest. While doing that job, I learned that part of the award for the authors of the three plays I selected – "The Death Monologues" by Chloe Giroux, "The Melting Point" by Bella Nybo, and "The Rhino" by Ben Anderson – was the chance to present them here at the Festival. Later I learned that my wife and were coming back to Vancouver, and realized I could see at least two of those productions here. And only after that was I offered this delightful job of adjudicating DramaFest itself.

In addition, although the production of "The Melting Point" had to be cancelled for personal reasons, another Youthwright submission, which I had not chosen as one of the three, is coming to the Festival anyway! My hat is off to these students from Johnston Heights Secondary School of Surrey, for cheerfully ignoring my judgement call, and coming to us anyway, with "Coffee, Anyone?", a play of which they are clearly proud.

So I'll be adjudicating full productions of three plays that I've already judged in script form. Just to be clear: the adjudicator's job is to look at the production values – acting, directing, design and tech. We usually have little to say about the scripts, whether they were written by students, teachers, or professionals. That will be the case here, too. I've already offered feedback on two of these scripts, to their winning playwrights. So now I'll be focusing on the productions instead.

Finally, it's a fitting coincidence that the theme of this Festival is "Full Circle" – for me personally, for the plays entered in YouthWright, and, on a larger scale, because the Festival includes a playwriting competition. When I started out in the early 1970s, very few Canadians were writing plays. On my first job in B.C., acting in school tour, I was thrilled that our play for high-school audiences was by pioneer playwright George Ryga of Summerville. The idea of a competition for Canadian high-school student playwrights seemed an impossible dream. But now – thanks to years of stubborn and determined work by thousands of students, teachers, parents and theatre professionals – here we happily find ourselves. My congratulations to all the students and their instructors who are taking part in this Festival, and to their friends and family who are enjoying and encouraging them.

Outstanding & Alternate Productions from ABCDE Zone Drama Festivals

Each year the ABCDE oversees Regional High School Drama Festivals throughout eighteen geographic zones in the province. In total, these festivals involve thousands of Drama students and their teachers in producing shows for their schools and communities. Each Regional/ Zone Festival is adjudicated by a Theatre professional and the shows that have been selected as Outstanding Productions are the ones that you will see over the three evenings of the festival.

We congratulate these students and their teachers for their commitment to excellence in Theatre.

Theatre Etiquette

We are so fortunate to be invited to present our shows at the Douglas College Theatre and we thank you for being respectful of this facility as you enjoy the three days of productions.

Being a member of a theatre audience is a shared experience. While the actors and crews of each production have their jobs to do, so do you as an audience member in order to ensure a positive experience for everyone.

- Remove your hat as you enter the theatre.
- Turn off all electronic devices.
- Refrain from eating or drinking ANYTHING during a performance.
- Refrain from speaking to your neighbours during a performance.
- Keep your feet off the seats in front of you.
- Enjoy your experience by listening and watching the performance actively.
- Remember that you are in a theatre and not a gymnasium, therefore enthusiastic applause is the way in which you show your appreciation to the performers for a job well done.
- If you need to leave the Theatre for any reason during a performance, please exit through the back doors and the ushers will allow you to return to your seat at an appropriate time.
- Flash photography is prohibited during a performance.
- Use of any recording devices or appartus that interferes with other audience members during a performance is prohibited.
- Those who have permission to do video recording of a show must be in the back of the theatre and not in the seats where it will interfere with all other audience members and the adjudicator.
- Only actors and crew members of each production are permitted on the stage.
